

Between
September 11 and
November 11, 2017

Please no scratched, broken or torn glasses.
Glasses will be donated. SWALCO will be collecting these and sending them off to Astronomers without Borders.

This is an opportunity for schools to have a first-hand science experience that they might not otherwise have. Many schools in developing countries don't have resources for science education and this is a rare opportunity that inspires students and teachers and shows them that science is something they can do. Glasses will be processed and given to students across the world via AWB programs, for future events
